

Checklist of Items to Take to AGQBA Regional Tournaments

- Five to twelve eligible players. All team members must meet the AAA rules for competition.
- Tournament Registration Signature Form with team member names typed in. Students will sign this form during registration. (This form will be sent to the site host two weeks prior to the tournament.)
- Copy of AAA Certificate filled out with proper signatures (must have to compete). (This form will be sent to the site host two weeks prior to the tournament.)
- Copy of the most recent AGQBA Rules of Competition.
- Name signs for each player. The team captain should be clearly marked. Your school name needs to be displayed also, either on the team member name signs or on a separate sign.
- Several score sheets, challenge forms, scratch paper, and pencils for your team's use.
- Buzzer set- in good working order. If your team does not have a buzzer system, contact the tournament host immediately and let them know you will not be bringing buzzers. Please also bring an extension cord. It is also a good idea to have your equipment labeled with your school name.
- One adult to be a judge. This is required. Judges should be a high school graduate with a basic knowledge of AGQBA. Judges should be familiar with the guidelines in the AGQBA handbook. They will not be judging your team. It is your responsibility to let them know they will not be able to see your team complete until possibly at the championship game. (Judges are typically not required at invitationals.)
- One student or adult to be scorekeeper. Scorekeepers may be team members, but they will not be allowed to compete in games for which they are score keeping. They should be familiar with the AGQBA score sheets and format of the games.
- Reference materials for any challenges. Your team is responsible for bringing any resources you may choose to use. Challenge materials must be in the competition room. Only recognized up-to-date materials such as almanacs, encyclopedias, fact finders, textbooks, dictionaries or anthologies (either book or CD format) may be used for proving challenges. Lists and other preparatory materials by quiz bowl companies or other sources are not acceptable reference materials. Sources requiring an internet connection may NOT be used.
- Several copies of your team roster to give to the All-Tournament Team scorekeeper.
- Any other items requested by your site host.
